Purcell Architects asked CopperStone to work closely with them on this Church which is a Grade II listed building.

The Church had a vacant plot to the side which was to be turned into a contemporary, practical space for the Church and Local Community to use.

Administered under a traditional JCT Contract, we worked closely with the client and Purcell Architects making sure all budgets were met without compromising the quality and look of the Grade II Church plot to the side.

CopperStone drew on their experienced supply chain to procure & fit all elements of the build from construction, fit out, M&E and the finishes.

Of the four contractors who Tendered for the work, Alex and Co were by far the most engaged and constructive. Alex's attention to detail and the efforts he and his team put in to sourcing and managing subcontractors were utterly instrumental in bringing this complex and sophisticated job in, on time, on budget, and precisely in accordance with the contract documents.

Tracksmith London

CopperStone undertook this 2 stage project for our Chicago based Clients.

The Trackhouse was designed as a manifestation of the Tracksmith brand, fused with the elevated culture of London's Marylebone Neighbourhood. The store is centred around a best-in-class retail district, while also being on the doorstep of some of London's finest green spaces. Creatively designed with elements that make the space unique, it features a terrazzo running track inlaid in the floor to guide the customer experience, as well as distinguished finishings throughout made from walnut, brass, and oak.

Crowther Associates and CopperStone worked closely together on this 5 storey end of terrace. The original building had been converted to office suites, we returned the house back into its original use, a residential single town house.

The property is located in the Birdcage walk conservation area in Westminster. To take back to its original use we needed to strip out from basement up to roof. We went back to the bare structure and then considerably restored, reinstating some original features, whilst incorporating high levels of fabric insulation and modern technologies such as a full house ventilation system.

The basement kitchen and ground floor dining area were linked together via a new double height space, incorporating a glass floor and a floating staircase linking them, all in a contemporary style, compared to the rest of the house but still blending seamlessly the old and new styles. This new double height space opens out on to a newly formed private sunken garden at the rear of the property.

Asprey Store, Peninsula Hotel London

We are delighted to have worked with Asprey and their detail driven design team, to produce this stunning contemporary space in the brand new Peninsula Hotel, opposite Hyde Park.

The focus of this fast track CAT B fitout was the customer experience, creating a main retail space of over 200m², VIP room and staff / security areas. The large joinery install blends the signature Asprey colours, printed on to fabric which are then stretched to provide a transition of colour throughout the store. The purpose built bar and vitrines offer a great entertaining and merchandising space.

Other works included high performance flooring, CCTV, Secure access, full MEP install, HVAC, fire strategy and all finishing works.
